NOTES

1. One who is committed to a detailed study of the parts might seize protectively on Edward A. Armstrong's observation, "There is a strange psychological bias which tempts those interested in large issues to belittle detailed work," in Shakespeare's Imagination (London, 1946), p. 125n. Cf. G. Wilson Knight's preface to the 4th edition of The Wheel of Fire (London: Methuen, 1949), pp. vi–vii. In Flaming Minister (Durham: Duke University Press, 1953), G. R. Elliott makes a detailed commentary on individual passages and on their relationships.
2. Cf. L. C. Knights, Explorations (New York: Stewart, 1947), p. 31.
3. Cf. E. E. Stoll's phrase, "a tragedy which is also a poem, in which the parts 'mutually support and explain each other' . . ." This is in Shakespeare and Other Masters (Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1940), p. 219. In Poetry and Drama (Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1951), p. 43, T. S. Eliot speaks of the "perfection of verse drama, which would be a design of human action and of words, such as to present at once the two aspects of dramatic and musical order."
4. For numerous examples of images which link separated passages, see W. H. Clemen, The Development of Shakespeare's Imagery (Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1951). Clemen makes a telling comment on the general sense of the interrelatedness of all parts which is created by the imagery (p. 224).
5. D. A. Traversi, Approach to Shakespeare (London, 1938), p. 14; and see his whole first chapter. Of Othello he says, "Plot and imagery, in fact, are fused as never before" (p. 86). Cf. his "Othello," The Wind and the Rain, vi (1950), 268–9. On the importance of the language spoken, the "wording," there are some relevant comments

Introduction

Learning Chinese is definitely a challenge. However, in some ways Chinese is not particularly complicated. Words do not change with gender, number or even tense, and there are not many complicated grammatical traps for the unwary. However, other things about it make it hard for native English speakers to learn.

Chinese pronunciation

The four tones

Chinese is a tonal language – the pitch of any syllable affects its meaning.

There are four tones: first tone (high, even pitch); second (rising pitch); third tone (falling and then rising) and fourth tone (falling pitch). There is also a fifth (or neutral) tone, which is pronounced so quietly and quickly that there is no discernible tone at all.

Tones are a very important part of the pronunciation – and wrong tones can cause real confusion.

Examples of differences in tones:

First tone	Second tone	Third tone	Fourth tone	Neutral tone
mā	má	mǎ	mà	ma
妈	麻	马	骂	吗
mother	hemp	horse	curse; swear	[question particle]

It may seem unnatural to native speakers of English to have pitch so rigidly attached to words, but the tone is as fundamental a part of any syllable as are its vowels and consonants.

MEMBER: Okay, so we are now on the record. There are two (2) matters scheduled for today. The first is an admissibility hearing followed by a 48-hour detention review. And as is our usual practice here at the Division, we will start with the admissibility hearing. It is being held via Microsoft Teams on October 16th, 2024. My name is Andrew Mortenson, I am a Member of this Division. And this is a public hearing concerning Spencer Joseph BARRETT. He is appearing virtually from the British Columbia Immigration Holding Centre.

I am also joined by Dylan Crocker, Counsel for CBSA. And I am also joined by a proposed designated representative, Nico Breed. So, just with regards to whether Mr. Breed should continue to assist us today or not, I would like to first hear from Mr. Breed with regards to their position. I understand that they spoke for about 10 to 15 minutes with Mr. BARRETT for the start of the hearing. So, Mr. Breed, I am curious to your thoughts on whether you believe that Mr. BARRETT would benefit from your assistance and if it is required. Thank you.

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: Thank you, sir. I had the opportunity to ask various questions to Mr. BARRETT. He answered them without any problems. He -- I had the benefit of the section 44(1) report. So, there was the ability of me to check the facts. He understand (sic) where he is. He knows that he is in detention. He knows where he is, he knows the city, he knows that he is in Canada, he knows the province. And he also mention and discussed with me the criminal activities and problems he had in the United States. So, after discussing that with him, I believe that there is no need for a designated representative. He understands the proceedings. He knows what -- why he is here. And that is my recommendation to the Board.

MEMBER: Okay, thank you very much. So, at this point Mr. Crocker, I will give you a chance to speak, but I would just like to provide an explanation of the admissibility hearing to Mr. BARRETT. And then afterwards, Mr. BARRETT, I will just ask you a couple of questions just to confirm that you understand what I have explained about the admissibility hearing, okay? So, just listen carefully for now, sir. Just bear with me, excuse me. Once I get my materials in order.

So, Mr. BARRETT, I will first explain the Minister's allegation to you. I appreciate that you may have already read this on your own, and you may have discussed it with Mr. Breed, but I am required to go through it. So, if you find it repetitive, I appreciate your patience. If you would like, the allegation is at page 2 of the Minister's larger 20-page disclosure package if you want to follow along. So, the Minister responsible for CBSA is alleging that you, Spencer Joseph BARRETT, born on April 18th, 1994 and citizen of the United States of America, are inadmissible to Canada under section 41(a) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

More particularly, they allege that you are a foreign national who is inadmissible for having either directly or indirectly failed to comply with the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act through an act or omission. In particular, CBSA alleges that you are not a Canadian citizen. They allege that you are not a permanent resident of Canada. They allege that you are a citizen of the United States of America. They allege that you entered Canada on an unknown date at an unknown location, and they allege that you did not report for examination as required.

In particular, they allege that you did not comply with the requirement of subsection 18(1) of the Act. That every person seeking to enter Canada must appear for an examination to determine whether that person has a right to enter Canada, or is -- or may become authorized to enter and remain in Canada. So, Mr. BARRETT, the purpose of the admissibility hearing is for myself to determine whether the Minister's allegations are true. This is on a standard of a balance of probabilities, meaning more likely than not. So, ultimately what I will decide is if it is more likely than not that the Minister's allegations are true.

I am a neutral and independent decision maker. I do not work for CBSA. If I find that CBSA has established the allegation, I must issue an exclusion order against you. If I decide to issue an exclusion order against you, if that order becomes enforceable against you, you must leave Canada and you may not return to Canada for a period of one (1) year, unless immigration authorities issue a written authorization to return to Canada. In addition, if I find that you are inadmissible and issue an exclusion order, you do not have a right to appeal to the Immigration Appeal Division. However, you would be able to request that the Federal Court judicially review that decision.

But if I find that the Minister has not established the allegation and I find that you are not inadmissible to Canada, then the Minister would have the right to appeal that decision to the Immigration Appeal Division. So, Mr. BARRETT, I will first just ask you, did you understand what I explained about the admissibility hearing?

PERSON CONCERNED: Yes, I do.

MEMBER: Okay. Can you explain to me why CBSA thinks you are inadmissible to Canada?

PERSON CONCERNED: Probably because of the lack of submitting for review. There is a timeline. Maybe criminal past history. I need to make an asylum claim against the USA. That is why I am here. I have well-founded fears against my life, or for my life.

MEMBER: Okay. So, sir, are you -- just want to be clear, are you -- do you want to make an asylum claim? Is that what you want to do right now?

PERSON CONCERNED: Yes.

MEMBER: All right, so Mr. Crocker, I will turn to you because you are an officer of CBSA. I am not sure if he has made -- I have not -- aware that he has made that statement before, but I will turn to you --

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yeah ---

MEMBER: -- because you are an officer of CBSA.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yeah, that is news to me. And I will have to pass on that information after the hearing goes forward. And I guess with that, we would not be able to go after the admissibility hearing.

MEMBER: Okay. Would you like to request a postponement then, Mr. Crocker? Just until that perhaps get sorted out, given that he has just made an asylum claim?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: For the detention review portion, you mean?

MEMBER: No, sorry, for the admissibility hearing. So, that (inaudible) still? Or you can make a formal application to withdraw if you want. Or you can just ask to postpone. I am open to either, but we will do the detention review either way.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Okay, I am going to postpone, and I am going to need to take a five (5) to 10-minute break if that is okay.

* Incomplete (there was more of a response)

Did you say convictions in the United States?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes. So, sorry. So, he stated to Officer Samra that he had received a DUI conviction and an assault conviction, and that he served 18 months in prison in the United States for those convictions. These are his -- Mr. BARRETT's declarations.

MEMBER: Okay. Sorry, Mr. BARRETT, I see your hand is up. Do you have a concern?

PERSON CONCERNED: Did Officer Samra not ever refer to my asylum claim? When I first arrived at the train station, I asked for asylum. I said I needed asylum, and that is why I was there. And specifically, because I researched to gain asylum in Canada, I have to be in Canada in order -- so -- but apparently, that whole thing was not recorded, and his testimony is probably just his testimony without recording of my interaction with him. I met with quite a few -- anyways, excuse me. Sorry, but I did make that clear when I first arrived on August 31st that I was seeking asylum against the USA.

MEMBER: Okay.

PERSON CONCERNED: And so, I am just wondering why that is not in -- sorry for ---

MEMBER: No, that is okay. In the future, I would just ask that you refrain from interrupting. After Mr. Breed has had a chance to speak, I can offer you a chance to speak as well. But just any time we have interruptions, it just can become very hard to follow. So, I appreciate your thoughts, though. All the same, I will give you a chance to speak later, okay? Thank you.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: You want me to address that point, Mister Member?

MEMBER: If you would like to in your submissions, you can feel free to. Thank you.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Okay, I will just speak to it now, that the Minister provided all the documentation available from the August 31st, 2024 interaction. And the CBSA does take asylum claims very seriously. And I am not doubting that Mr. BARRETT did state that. But I -- me personally, I can see in our records, the notes that I have provided are fulsome, and I provided what I have available to me. And having not been there on that date at that time, I cannot speak to it at that -- this exact moment. So, I am going to leave it at that for this exact moment.

So, I am going to pick up back where I left off. So, on that same day, Mr. BARRETT also declared that he was at one (1) point sent to a mental hospital in the United States because the courts believe that he may be showing signs of schizophrenia. And that was his declaration to Officer Samra. So, on that same day, a check of -- a check was done of the NCIC systems. And regarding Mr. BARRETT's criminality, and it revealed the following criminality in the United States. So, there was a second-degree assault in 2017. There was a driving ---

MEMBER: Sorry, not to interrupt unnecessarily, but can you point me to the page number for myself and Mr. Breed's benefit? And Mr. BARRETT's, for that matter?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes, sorry. So, if you look at page 8 of M-1 in the solemn declaration. We are not able to provide the NCIC records. So, I am relying on the solemn declaration of Officer Labresc (ph).

MEMBER: Okay, I am there, thank you.

Immigration Division on a different ground and on the basis of a different standard.

And then lastly at paragraph 56, they found that continued detention under 58(1)(c) is not limited to an original detention order made under section 55(3) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. And those are all my submissions on the 58(1)(c). And if needed, I am willing to make submissions based on Mr. BARRETT being unlikely to appear for his immigrant -- for his future immigration proceeding, which is his now asylum claim. And those are my submissions for now, thank you.

MEMBER: Okay, thank you. Just bear with me one (1) moment, please. I am just reviewing the notes of your submissions to see if I have any questions. So -- just so I am clear, so I am looking at page 16. So, the Minister requested further information for the county of Benton, Oregon?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Correct.

MEMBER: And its relation to that assault --

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes.

MEMBER: -- on second degree conviction, and that is the information that the Minister is waiting on?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes, exactly. And from M-2, which is Officer William Powell (ph). He stated that the request has been made, but we are just waiting on that report to come back to us. But it seems like he is expecting to receive it at some point today.

MEMBER: No, I do not have any questions at least for now, thank you. I may after I hear from Mr. Breed.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Thank you.

MEMBER: So, Mr. Breed, I will turn to you next. Whenever you are ready, you can provide any submissions you would like. Thank you.

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: Thank you, sir. Just one (1) clarification in addition to the Minister's Counsel submissions regarding the summary of numerous criminal offences in the US. I referred to page 8 of 20. He read through all the possible offences, but there is also a sentence following most of these charges were dismissed. We have the benefit of the further documents that we received, which we do not attack or object to. Mr. BARRETT agreed, and he said by himself that he had some criminal issues in the US, and he admitted to that.

I have to just put on the record that I was informed that Mr. Bennett -- BARRETT was according to his words, assaulted, and he tried to talk to somebody about that. And he may be able to add to that, but I leave it at that point. At this moment, he does not have any alternative to detention, sir. We have no submissions in that regard. Subject to any other questions, those are my submissions.

MEMBER: Thank you. Just one (1) clarifying question, where did Mr. BARRETT tell you he was assaulted? Was it at the IHC or somewhere else?

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: No, it was during the arrest in the park I believe.

MEMBER: Okay. All right, thank you for letting me know, and thank you for your submissions, I appreciate it. All right, so, Mr. BARRETT, I did offer you a chance to speak earlier, and I will honour that.

So, if there is -- you heard Mr. Breed speak. I do not need you to repeat anything that he said, but if there is anything else you would like me to know or to consider, then I will give you that opportunity to speak now. Thank you.

PERSON CONCERNED: I guess I am just wondering where Crocker got all those charges. Because most of them were dropped. I do not know how well the court's communication -- I did not get -- I am losing myself now, I cannot ---

MEMBER: That is okay. You can take a minute to think if you want.

~~MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE~~: Yeah, I am just wondering where he got all those charges from, because there is more than I remember on my record. Also, he says second degree assault, and it was attempted second degree assault. Was -- there is a difference. One (1) is much more violent -- one (1) than the other one. And the obstructing and disorderly conduct, mischief, all those -- I am -- never seen those on my record. I have seen -- I complained in the past about how they kind of blindsided me with a false reporting. I have written about this. Just so you guys know, all my records were on Archive.org, which was recently taken down by pro-Palestinian groups.

So, I was trying to forward those to you guys today. It was taken down two (2) days ago, just so you know. But I hope my family or friends or other -- because I have tried to share these documents on defamation and other things going on, but I could not. Because -- so, that also is taking up my brain space to the Palestinian conflict, and how that has completely destroyed my records of everything. I back up all my files on there as a traveler. The officer does not say that I have (inaudible). So, I am not homeless, I am home free. I live by Jesus Christ's message to be homeless or to be faithful.

Yeah, it is just -- put a lot of words out there make me sound really bad. A lot of convictions that I did not have any say. I cannot afford lawyers, so I do not have a lot of rights in the United States. And I get brainwashed because I am currently in a situation where I have no access. I do not even have a jug of water. I had to sit in this room for an hour without any -- just by myself in a room. They do not even let me use a pencil in my room upstairs. I cannot maintain my own records, I cannot use my own brain in this space. So, I just want to apologize for not being -- there is just so much that has been taken from me, and it is very hard in this state to use your mind at your best level. So, I have -- I apologize. There is other emotional things going on. I do not think I can explain this (inaudible), sorry.

MEMBER: Okay. No, there is no need to apologize. I certainly understand that it is difficult, Mr. BARRETT. Thank you for explaining what you could. I really appreciate it. Okay. Mr. Crocker, I will give you a chance just to reply briefly. It looked like Mr. BARRETT was wondering where the Minister got the information about the charges. If you want to maybe provide that in your reply just so that he has some clarity. In any case, you can provide that in a reply along with anything else. Thank you. Just to assist.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yeah, yeah. So, Mr. BARRETT is correct. It is attempt to commit a class B felony, which is assault in the second degree. So, I would just like to make that correction on the record. And then Mr. BARRETT, where we got that information is that Canada and the United States have information sharing agreements. And unfortunately, we are not able to use those records as disclosure. So, what we do is that we make solemn declarations, as people who witness those documents and the people that witness those documents are officers of CBSA. And what they see on those systems, they declare and sign off to that -- what they are what they are attesting to is true and fulsome.

And so yeah, you can see it again at page 8. And that would have been the officer, that -- Officer Labresc, who was the one who tried to call you initially when you were arrested by Surrey RCMP, and that you did Regarding how long Mr. BARRETT has been detained. He has been detained for five (5) days so far. It is a deprivation of his liberty, and these (inaudible) weigh towards release.

With regards to how long detention may continue. Presently, the reason for detention is the Minister's investigation into potential inadmissibility. So, the investigation is the appropriate timeline to consider. Of course, it is somewhat unclear when the Minister's investigation may finally conclude. It is often difficult to ascertain and put a finite date on when the investigation can conclude, especially when the Minister is awaiting documents from another jurisdiction. But I have no reason to doubt the Minister's submission that they are expecting the police reports they are seeking in the coming days, if not later today.

So, I do consider that the anticipated length of time in detention on this particular ground at most would likely be about one (1) week. And that is considering that there could be some delays that the Minister cannot foresee. But I did give Mr. BARRETT the benefit of a higher estimate of one (1) week, as opposed to a day or two (2) when I considered this factor. And these days weigh towards release as well.

I find there are no unexplained delays or lack of diligence by any party.

The best interest of any directly affected child have not been argued. That is a neutral factor.

And finally, regarding the existence of an alternative. There was no formal alternative to detention plan proposed for my consideration, at least for today. However, I considered releasing Mr. BARRETT on a promise to comply with terms and conditions. However, I am concerned that if he were released on a simple promise, he may decide to not cooperate with CBSA's investigation, given his refusals to speak to CBSA in the recent past. So, I find such an alternative is insufficient and weighs towards continuing detention.

And finally, just one (1) final comment on something that Mr. BARRETT mentioned to me that I believe the Minister should consider. Mr. BARRETT did mention that he is not allowed to have pens or pencils in the cell or in the common areas. Certainly, I understand why that is not permitted. It is a security risk. But I would just ask that the Minister be mindful of Mr. BARRETT's lack of ability because of that, to take his own notes on his own time. And so, if he can be afforded time to have supervised use of pencils and stationery so he can make his own notes as he goes along. I think that should be afforded to him just so he can make his own records of his own thoughts and things that he may want to keep a record of.

Again, I do fully understand the Minister's concern and why pens and pencils cannot just be everywhere at the IHC. But if he does need to take notes, I think that he should be afforded that opportunity with supervision if necessary. I will now schedule the next detention review to occur in seven (7) days. I will invite both Mr. Breed and Mr. Crocker to check their calendars, and if the next date and time does not work for them, then they can certainly let me know. And I can find another date and time to avoid an otherwise unnecessary application to change the date and time. So, that would be on -- just one (1) second Mr. BARRETT, I will get to you in a second. October 23rd at 11:00 a.m. Pacific Time.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: There is no issues with me for that date.

MEMBER: Mr. Breed, how about your schedule?

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: The date works for me. Thank you, sir.

MEMBER: All right, so there will be another detention review on October 23rd at 11:00 a.m. Pacific time. Sorry Mr. BARRETT, I saw your hand up. Did you have a question?

today. But perhaps going forward, after today, there would be no need for that.

MEMBER: Minister's Counsel. Do you have any position?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: I agree with Mr. Harding. I think that because duty Counsel did not represent Mr. BARRETT at the first one, Mr. Breed would have more context as to the last hearing and that him just being here for this one and then giving Mr. Harding a chance to catch up for future detention reviews, if he is assigned, would be in the best interest of Mr. BARRETT.

MEMBER: Mr. BARRETT, I will turn to you. A designated representative is someone who effectively steps into your shoes and makes representations, decisions on your behalf, and can instruct Counsel on your behalf. I know you have had an opportunity to speak with Mr. Breed and with Counsel. Do you believe you would benefit from Mr. Breed's assistance today?

PERSON CONCERNED: Yes, I am unfamiliar with Canada law, so I do -- will benefit from it. And I do not have the resources here to effectively study Canadian law, which I would like to do, but very limited resources while I am held in detention. I would prefer to self-represent myself as I am quite capable, but the environment makes it a little bit difficult here.

MEMBER: So, there is a difference between -- I understand and there is a difference between a designated representative and your Counsel. The designated representative is appointed when someone does not fully comprehend the nature of the proceedings or is unable to instruct Counsel.

You have indicated that you do believe Mr. Breed would be of assistance. I recognize that he has been meeting with you and assisting you, and I acknowledge that Counsel's indicated that for the purpose of the hearing today, it would be beneficial to have Mr. Breed's assistance as he has been involved throughout. Minister's Counsel did agree.

And so, sir, as you are not opposed to having Mr. Breed assist you in this matter, I will continue the appointment of the designated representative for the purpose of the hearing today.

So, we will -- first up, I will note that all three (3) of you did have an opportunity to speak prior to going on the record today. I will just confirm with Counsel that you are ready to proceed with the pre-hearing conference and the detention review.

COUNSEL: Yes, Madam. Thank you very much.

MEMBER: So, we will proceed first with the pre-hearing conference.

With regards to the admissibility hearing, the Division received, I believe, dated yesterday, a package of 34 documents -- pardon me, 34 pages under one (1) cover page. Did you receive that, Counsel and Mr. Breed?

COUNSEL: Yes, the Member -- Madam Member, I have received it and I have no objection. Thank you.

MEMBER: Well, as it (inaudible) it does not appear, we will proceed with the admissibility hearing today. I am not going to enter any exhibits, but I do want to clarify which exhibits will be used by the Minister. That one was the one containing the 44 report. I will ask the Minister's Representative, did the Minister intend to rely on any of the other packages that have been disclosed previously? Because the admissibility hearing file is separate from the detention review.

PERSON CONCERNED: Yes. (inaudible) to add that these false reports by the police officers are a part of my asylum claim. So, convictions where I was coerced by the judge or my Counsel at the time, and ---

MEMBER: All right, so, Mr. BARRETT , we are not right at this moment hearing any arguments about the allegation. I just want you to know what the allegation is. Your Counsel's indicated just prior to going on the record that he does not wish to proceed with that today.

I will turn to Counsel. I understand that you did not want to proceed today. Do you have any further comments on that?

COUNSEL: Yes, Madam, I wish to add that advised Mr. BARRETT that based on the various challenges he wishes to raise at his admissibility hearing. Advice -- I have advised him that it may be a good idea for him to contact Legal Aid to see if you could have legal Counsel assigned to him to assist him with that aspect of his matter. But he has confirmed today that we will not be able, at this moment, to proceed with that part of his case. Thank you, Madam.

MEMBER: And Mr. Breed, do you have anything to add?

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: Thank you, ma'am. I agree with Mr. Harding. And I believe that because inadmissibility on serious criminal grounds is serious, it has serious consequences and Mr. BARRETT does need some time to properly prepare for the inadmissibility hearing and to obtain documents, which is difficult for him now. Thank you.

MEMBER: In terms of the time that you would be seeking, how long of adjournment of this matter , would you be seeking?

COUNSEL: Madam, I would ---

PERSON CONCERNED: I have to interrupt. I have documents on my device in this very building ---

COUNSEL: Hold on ---

PERSON CONCERNED: And I have ---

MEMBER: Just a moment, let Counsel speak first. I will turn to you after.

COUNSEL: Madam, I wish to say it is going to be very difficult for me to see because he raised a few points whilst I was talking to him earlier and mentioned a number of documents, and that is why I have advised him to contact Legal Aid as soon as possible, and they will have a better idea if they will give him Counsel, and if Counsel comes forward, how long that will take.

But as of now, Madam, I would not want to guess, I am very sorry about that.

MEMBER: Mr. BARRETT, you have indicated that you have some documents. You have been advised by Counsel today that you may wish to contact Legal Aid. In terms of preparation for your admissibility hearing, do you have any comments on the amount of time you might require? I understand the difficulties in anticipating or determining when Legal Aid may or may not be available.

PERSON CONCERNED: No, a month would be sufficient. I just want to make sure you are -- everyone is aware I am making an asylum claim against the USA. Okay, I just want to make sure --

He told the CBSA that he is been living in the forest throughout Washington state, and when he was refused that initial entry to Canada, he was able to navigate through points of entry between the United States and Canada and remain undetected for a period of six (6) weeks time until found by the RCMP.

So, the Minister also has concerns that Mr. BARRETT's potential mental health issues could make him unreliable, by his own admission. And as we can see at M-3 -- sorry. I am going to take that back. I am going to restart that submission.

So, the Minister has concerns that Mr. BARRETT's potential mental health issues could make him unreliable by his own admission, the court's United States sent him to a mental health facility as he was displaying signs of schizophrenia. And then in the solemn declaration scene at M-3, as of yesterday, he stated that he has PTSD, was diagnosed with schizophrenia and bipolar disorder. And the Minister believes that these mental health issues would affect his reliability to comply with conditions sufficiently if he is released from detention today.

So, Mr. BARRETT, as of last week, is now subject to a conditional departure order for looting entry -- or looting examination while entering Canada. And then at the last hearing, Mr. BARRETT elected to make a claim for refugee protection against the United States. And the Minister estimates that the refugee process will take roughly six (6) to eight (8) weeks from the time of application filing. And as mentioned earlier, the Minister will request that the hearing and the decision from the Refugee Protection Division, those processes be expedited.

So, Mr. BARRETT's length of time in detention to date is roughly 12 days time. The Minister does not believe this is disproportionate to the degree of flight that Mr. BARRETT poses. So, if Mr. BARRETT claim for refugee protection is deemed negative and his conditional order becomes enforceable removal to the United States could happen immediately after, usually removals from Canada to United States can happen within the same day's time.

Keeping in mind the report under 36(1)(b) has now been written against Mr. BARRETT outlining serious criminality concerns. If that report results in a deportation order, his refugee claim would be pre-determined ineligible. And then, if his claim is deemed ineligible removal to the US could happily -- could happen shortly thereafter. And again, as we discussed earlier, the date for that admissibility ---

MEMBER: What about PRRA?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: I thought -- I am just looking at the processes in front of us and not speculating if Mr. BARRETT would like to take PRRA or not at this exact time.

MEMBER: Okay.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: So, again, as I was saying the date for that admissibility hearing has not been determined yet. So, future length of time in detention is not exactly known at this exact moment.

Mr. BARRETT has no fixed address, access to any funds. He has not provided the CBSA with a phone or phone number where he can be contacted. And has stated that he has minimal ties here in Canada. He did mention to the officer that interviewed him at M-3 yesterday that he has a friend named Jagger (ph) that he was staying with. But Jagger's house was raided by the police. So, he is no longer was able to stay there --

PERSON CONCERNED: No -- that is not -- that is a false statement.

They have receipts, they stamp when they receive a communication. So ---

MEMBER: Sir, I understand, and I do take your point that there are challenges. I very much understand that. Mr. Crocker, I will still allow you that final response, if there is anything you want to add, and that will be it.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes, I will just I will forward Mr. BARRETT messaging to the IHC as I always do when there is concerns from clients, I have no problem forwarding that the communication needs to be better. And I will just say that he has stated this on the record. And yes, that is what -- I do not personally work at the IHC, but that that is what I can do is I can forward your concerns to the team there. Thank you.

MEMBER: Thank you. Thank you. I will just take a few moments to review my notes before I am able to render a decision on the detention. I propose that we return in about 10 minutes.

COUNSEL: Miss --

MEMBER: I am sorry?

COUNSEL: Yes, Madam, please, I wish to ask for excuse as I prepare for my 1:00 p.m. hearing.

MEMBER: Yes, I understand. Thank you, Mr. Harding --

COUNSEL: Thank you, Madam. --

MEMBER: -- for your participation today.

COUNSEL: -- Have a wonderful day (inaudible). Thank you.

MEMBER: So, if anyone would like to.

----------END OF AUDIO # 3 ----------

----------BEGINNING OF AUDIO # 4 ----------

MEMBER: We are back on the record with the same parties present other than duty Counsel, Mr. Harding has had to depart. I am prepared to give my decision.

DECISION

MEMBER: These are the decision and reasons in the seven (7) day detention review for Spencer Joseph BARRETT. This is a private hearing.

Mr. BARRETT is a citizen of the United States who has been detained since October 11th, 2024. The Minister is now advancing the grounds that he is unlikely to appear for his removal from Canada.

I have considered all of the evidence and the submissions made today, and I will be ordering continued detention because I find, on a balance of probabilities, sir, that you are unlikely to appear for removal, and the other factors I am required to consider in Regulation 248 do not weigh in favour of release.

Sir, you did not. I still don't allow me to submit evidence (see

For a very brief background. Sir, you are a citizen of the United States and you sought to enter Canada on August 31st, 2024. You were offered the opportunity to withdraw your application to enter Canada, as the officer believed you were inadmissible to Canada for criminality.

At some point, you returned to Canada without reporting for examination. You have since made a refugee claim and you have been issued a departure order. At this time, you are detained for your removal from Canada.

In coming to a determination as to whether or not you are unlikely to appear, there are certain prescribed factors that I am required to consider, and these are outlined in the Immigration Regulations -- Regulation 245. Several of these factors relate to non-compliance.

You appear to have a history of non-compliance in the criminal context. You accumulated several charges in the United States, though I place less weight on charges than I do on convictions. You do have at least one (1) criminal conviction in the United States. And I will note also that you have an outstanding warrant out of the state of Oregon. That warrant indicates that you have violated the conditions of your parole. And that is relevant in considering whether or not you would appear for removal or comply with conditions in Canada.

That lack of compliance with your supervision in Oregon is something that I find ways in favour of establishing the flight risk ground. I note also that you sought to attempt -- that you sought to enter Canada despite the existence of a warrant. I do not have sufficient information before me as to your knowledge of the warrant, when exactly that warrant was issued to be able to conclude that you are a fugitive from justice. However, the existence of that warrant and the fact that you have left the jurisdiction is relevant to me in my consideration.

You also have non-compliance in the immigration context. You entered Canada without reporting to CBSA at a port of entry. When you did seek to report to CBSA back in August 2024, you were not allowed entry. Your designated representative noted today that you admitted your criminal history and you complied with CBSA requirements. Although you did leave Canada, you did not then report to officers to try to re-enter Canada, and instead you entered Canada in an irregular manner between ports of entry. I find that this is also relevant to my consideration as to whether or not you would comply with conditions, including removal.

With regards to the existence of ties to a community in Canada. I have very limited information before me about your ties to a community in Canada. Thus far, I do not have evidence that would convince me that those are ties that would motivate you in complying with conditions or appearing for removal.

I have also noted that in several of your interactions with CBSA, you have demonstrated a lack of co-operation. That said, this can be attributable to a mental health condition.

Which leads me to another question that I have considered, and that is whether or not you are capable of complying with conditions. Officers have had concerns related to your mental health. You have indicated that you were diagnosed with schizophrenia and bipolar disorder, and this is not something that is your fault. But I have to consider if and how it could impact your compliance with conditions and removal.

I also note that you have a lack of funds. You do not have stable housing in Canada. And if this type of situation and lack of stability is not -- does not provide conditions that are conducive to compliance. You did indicate today at one (1) point that you do not even want to be in Canada. I do not find that there is motivation for you to follow through on your immigratio[illegible]ers, and particularly report for removal, as

was assaulted

you clearly do not want to return to the United States.

So, overall, I am satisfied on a balance of probabilities that you are unlikely to appear for removal from Canada.

PERSON CONCERNED: You (inaudible) take in custody and you guys do not --

MEMBER: Sir, so, I am giving my decision, --

PERSON CONCERNED: -- (inaudible) --

MEMBER: -- it is not the --

PERSON CONCERNED: -- (inaudible) --

MEMBER: -- time to talk.

PERSON CONCERNED: -- (inaudible) have fun with your bullshit. Good job.

MEMBER: You may not like what I have to explain in the decision, but I do suggest that you listen to the full decision. A transcript will be produced if you choose not to. However, listening through to the decision may provide you with some insight as to what Members of this Division may be looking for.

PERSON CONCERNED: Fears are not enough for them to care about my life or being accountable.

MEMBER: Okay, I am going to ask that you not interrupt while I finish the decision. And again, I think it is in your interest to pay detention to that decision.

PERSON CONCERNED: I care about your life. You are in contempt of court because we do not care about your life. You are in contempt of court because I do not care about you.

MEMBER: Sir, I would rather not have to mute your microphone because once I have done that, it is difficult for me to get you back. So, I would ask that you not interrupt any further.

PERSON CONCERNED: I used to be emotionally capable. You guys really -- are really offensive.

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: Mr. BARRETT may I just -- it is to your own benefit. Just stay quiet for now, really. That will ---

PERSON CONCERNED: (inaudible) was hurting. (inaudible) it is hurting.

MEMBER: Okay, so, I will attempt to continue, and I will attempt to not mute the microphone at this time. However, if I need to, I will do so.

The first factor I have to consider is the reason for detention. I will note that being unlikely to appear is not the most serious ground for detention, and it is one (1) that tends to weigh in favour of release

PERSON CONCERNED: At any time of day (inaudible) ---

MEMBER: So, sir you are continuing to speak, so I am going to mute the microphone.

With regards to the length of time that you have been detained, every day that spent in detention is significant and incrementally weighs more and more towards release. At this time, you have been detained since October 11th, it is not an insignificant period of time, but I do not find that it is disproportionate to the reason for detention and the level of flight risk.

With regards to the future length of time in detention, there is some question as to what that future length of time may be. At this time, you have made a refugee claim in Canada. The Minister would seek to expedite that refugee claim and has provided a timeline of approximately six (6) to eight (8) weeks. That is a lengthy period of time, which does tend to weigh in favour of release. However, considering the other factors, including what I believe to be an alternative that does not sufficiently address the risk, I do not at this time find that the future length of time in detention is balancing overall in favour of releasing you.

I do not find that there are any unexplained delays or lack of diligence on your part or from the CBSA.

I will note for the record that it appears Mr. BARRETT has perhaps turned the camera off. I am not sure if Mr. BARRETT is remaining to hear the decision. However, I will note that a transcript will be made available. And Mr. Breed, perhaps you can discuss the decision with Mr. BARRETT.

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: I will do, ma'am.

MEMBER: Thank you.

With regards to the existence of alternatives to detention. Today, we do have a proposed alternative involving relief on Mr. BARRETT's own recognizance to a shelter. I believe that past behaviour is a good indicator of possible future behaviour, and I find that Mr. BARRETT has a past history of non-compliance that concerns me when I am seeking to determine whether or not he can be trusted on his own recognizance.

While the Welcome Hub may require that he returned by 10:00 p.m. this does not rise to the level of supervision that I think would address the mental health concerns and the flight risk that I believe Mr. BARRETT poses. The Welcome Hub would address one (1) concern which is stable housing, but only for about a six (6) week period, and I do not find that that sufficient. Any alternative to detention needs to provide Mr. BARRETT with ongoing and lasting stability and put him in a position where he can concede -- succeed in complying.

I am seeking asylum against Canada too (see

So, I do not find that the alternative to detention as presented today is sufficient to suitably mitigate the risk and weigh in favour of release.

I do not have any information about the best interests of any children directly affected by the detention, so this is a neutral factor.

I also consider the fact that Mr. BARRETT indicated he has been struggling to prepare for his matters while detained. And when I say matters, I mean his immigration matters. He is referenced both preparation for his admissibility hearing and for his refugee hearing. I recognize that being in detention is not an ideal situation to be able to prepare, particularly where Mr. BARRETT does seem to indicate he would like to self-represent. He did receive advice from Counsel that he can reach out to Legal Aid to seek representation for these matters.

I am going to ask that CBSA ensure that he has the means to prepare and access to information about Canadian legislation and technology that he needs to properly prepare his case to the best of his ability possible new duty Counsel, I would like to suggest that we set it for the same time as the 30-day detention review, November 21. That will definitely some time for either Mr. BARRETT to prepare himself or get a Legal Aid Counsel and help him. I want to apologize. I tried to calm him but obviously I do agree the young man has problems. It is obvious.

MEMBER: Okay. Mr. Crocker, I noticed that you were nodding.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes, I think that makes total sense. He is likely going to be in detention until that date. We can get them both done in the same day. And then like you said, I know that he said he wanted it as soon as possible but I think initially he also said that a month time, 30 days from now is a month. I think that that is fair. It is enough time. It is not too long. It is not too short.

MEMBER: I mean, I -- so the one thing I am considering is that and I mentioned this before, I do not want his detention to continue for any lengthier period of time than required. On one (1) hand, if the admissibility hearing occurred and he was found described, that would either allow for his immediate removal or would potentially, if he chose to apply for PRRA, would start that timeline. If that is delayed and if that the refugee claim is suspended, then my fear is that that six (6) to eight (8) week timeline will not start for an additional month.

If Mr. BARRETT were found, not described, then there would be no need to suspend the eligibility for the refugee claim, and that clock could start ticking right away.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Yes.

MEMBER: So, I hear both of your points with regards to his ability to prepare. It is very difficult absent his presence to determine what his plans are with regards to potentially seeking Legal Aid. So, I think what I would propose is that we attempt to schedule something sooner to get Mr. BARRETT back. Determine his intentions with regards to Legal Aid and whether or not he wants to proceed. I just do not want to assume his plans to seek representation if that is not his intent. And also, he did indicate if he were to remain detained, he did not feel like he would adequately prepare and detention.

So, I would like to get his viewpoint on that and give him the opportunity to have that hearing sooner if that is his choice. And to potentially avoid a longer time in detention. If, however, we set a date and Mr. BARRETT says that he intends to contact Legal Aid or that he is already done so we could remain flexible with rescheduling that to accommodate Legal Aid Counsel. Does that sound reasonable?

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: Sounds very reasonable, yes.

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: (inaudible) ---

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: (inaudible) with him not present either, right.

MEMBER: So, looking ahead to when that could be. Minister's Counsel, what is your availability? Let us see, do you have any availability in the afternoon on the 31st? Actually, I may just pause the record while we sort out our calendars, and I will resume to confirm that.

----------END OF AUDIO # 4 ----------

----------BEGINNING OF AUDIO # 5 ----------

see past

MEMBER: We are back on the record. I have confirmed with scheduling of the Division that we can set the admissibility hearing to occur 9:30 a.m. on November 4th.

Again, I note that Mr. BARRETT indicated that he does wish to proceed with the admissibility hearing as soon as possible if his detention were to continue. So, I have set a date in line with that desire at this time. However, I acknowledge that Mr. BARRETT may wish to retain Counsel, to contact Legal Aid Counsel, and, if that is the case, and Counsel would require more time for preparation. Then, that can certainly be revisited at that time.

So, Mr. Breed, I ask that you speak to Mr. BARRETT about that. And if he is wanting to proceed with the admissibility hearing on his own, then perhaps we can look to be prepared to go ahead on November 4th, which is the soonest we could accommodate that. And hopefully that would avoid any unnecessary future length of time in detention.

Is there anything further from either party before we conclude today?

DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE: Nothing from my side, ma'am. Thank you.

MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE: No, ma'am. Nothing from my side. I thank you for your time and your patience.

MEMBER: Thank you very much. I will wish you both good afternoon. Thank you.

ATD REVIEW #2

DATE:31 January 2025
CLIENT: BARRETT, Spencer
DOB:18 April 1994
UCI: 11-4228-4332
COMMUNITY LIAISON OFFICER J. GRANT

Mr. Spencer Barrett, herein referred to as the client, is a citizen of the USA who came to the attention of the CBSA on 11 October 2024, when he was arrest by the Surrey RCMP and transported to the Surrey Immigration Holding Centre (IHC). The client was found eligible to make a refugee claim in Canada. The client's claim was heard and concluded on 09 January 2025; however, we are still pending a decision. Due to the client's extensive criminality in the USA, he was taken to an Admissibility hearing and was issued with a deportation order on 15 November 2025.

During his time at the IHC, according to our Detainee Activities Management System (DAMS), the client has been involved in 38 events. These events range from verbal altercations, disrespectful comments, profanities, hunger strike, non compliance with procedures, as well as threats towards guards and their families. The client's behaviour at the IHC continues to be a challenge for both the CBSA officers and the guard staff.

Although, I have not spoken to the medical unit about the client it is believed that he does suffer from mental health issues. The client is in regular contact with the medical unit at the IHC regarding medication and various behavioural concerns. On 29 January 2025, the client was asked if he will be eating his lunch to which he replied "No. I am going to kill myself." The client was spoken to regarding his comment, to which he claimed that it wasn't meant in a serious manner as "everyone dies daily, it is life." The client was spoken to by medical and was cleared of any potential self harm, but it was noted that guards should continue to keep an extra eye on him. On the same day, the client began to display behaviour outside of his regular demeanour, and was transferred to one of our wet cells. The client had the opportunity to speak with medical staff, was issued medication, and was provided with the opportunity to be added to the psychology list, however, he typically refuses this option. The client was returned to the regular unit on 30 January 2025.

As the CLO assigned to this file, I have not spoken to the client but have reviewed his file, and I do not believe that he would be a good candidate for CCMS due to his mental health, criminal history, and the fact that he is a refugee claimant. The client does not meet the requirement for electronic monitoring due to his mental health.

And I make this report conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.

REASONS FOR DECISION

INTRODUCTION

[1] This is the decision of the Refugee Protection Division (RPD) in the claim of Spencer Joseph Barrett as a citizen of the United States of America who is claiming refugee protection pursuant to section 96 and subsection 97(1) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (the "Act")[1].

[2] The Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness (the Minister) has intervened in this claim on the ground of program integrity.

ALLEGATIONS

[3] The following is a summary of the claimant's allegations as found in his Basis of Claim (BOC) form, narrative, and testimony. The claimant is a 30-year-old American man who alleges a risk of harm from the Oregon Judicial Department, the United States Federal Court, the government of the USA, and pharmaceutical companies of the USA.

[4] The claimant alleges to be an environmental activist, and that he fears the agents of harm in this case due to the claimant's whistleblowing against pharmaceutical companies. The claimant also alleged that he fears returning to the USA as he fears President Donald Trump. The claimant stated that he has made a "meme" against Trump, and that he fears being targeted by officials of the USA and Trump supporters due to the post.

DETERMINATION

[5] I find that the claimant is neither a Convention refugee nor a person in need of protection.

ANALYSIS

[1] Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, S.C. 2001, c. 27.

Identity

[6] I find that the claimant's personal identity and his identity as a national of the USA have been established by his American passport found at Exhibit 1.

Nexus

[7] In order to satisfy the definition of a "Convention refugee" found in section 96 of the IRPA, a claimant must establish that he or she faces a serious possibility of persecution on account of his or her race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group or political opinion in his or her country of nationality.

[8] In this case, I find that the claimant's allegations do not establish a nexus to any of the five Convention grounds. As such, this claim will be assessed under section 97(1) of the Act.

Credibility, Rish of s.97(1) Harm

[9] After assessing the totality of the evidence before me, I find on a balance of probabilities that the claimant has not established the allegations of risk he faces in the USA.

[10] In assessing the claimant's credibility, I accept that the claimant is telling the truth as is honestly perceived by the claimant. However, I find that the claimant's testimony is not trustworthy, and therefore not credible, as the claimant's allegations are not reliable. There is no reliable or credible evidence before me to establish that the claimant is being targeted by the Oregon Judicial Department, the Federal Court of the USA, the government of the USA, or pharmaceutical companies of the USA.

[11] While the claimant alleges to be an environmental activist and a whistleblower against big pharmaceutical companies, and notes in his BOC form that he will "likely [be] killed like JFK, MLK, or Ghandi", there is no reliable evidence before me which would establish that the claimant is a real environmental activist, a whistleblower, or has actually been targeted, in reality, by the agents of harm described in the paragraph above.

[12] I recognize that there is no general requirement for a claimant to provide corroborating documents, and that testimony alone can establish a claim. The Board however is entitled to draw conclusions concerning an applicant's credibility based on implausiblities, common sense and rationality. The Board can reject evidence, including testimony, where it is inconsistent with the probabilities affecting the case as a whole.

[13] The Federal Court in Valtchev v. Canada[2] states the following:

> A tribunal may make adverse findings of credibility based on the implausibility of an applicant's story provided the inferences drawn can be reasonably said to exist. However, plausibility findings should be made only in the clearest of cases, i.e., if the facts as presented are outside the realm of what could reasonably be expected, or where the documentary evidence demonstrates that the events could not have happened in the manner asserted by the claimant. A tribunal must be careful when rendering a decision based on a lack of plausibility because refugee claimants come from diverse cultures, and actions which appear implausible when judged from Canadian standards might be plausible when considered from within the claimant's milieu.

[14] While I acknowledge the Federal Court's caution to reserve findings of implausibility to the clearest of cases, this is such a clear case, in my view. I find the facts and allegations which the claimant has presented, namely that he is being targeted by the Oregon Judicial Department, the US Federal Court, and pharmaceutical companies due to the claimant's "human rights and peace activism" and his "persistent belief in love and constant actions for world peace… and preparing heaven on Earth for the return of Christ" are outside the realm of what could reasonably be expected in the contexts in which they have been said to have occurred.

[15] The claimant has elaborated in his testimony that after he had "created a meme against" President Trump, he was assaulted the same day. While it is unfortunate that the claimant was the target of an unprovoked attack, I find it more likely than not that the claimant's fear of harm stems from speculation, rather than actual risk. The allegations that the government of the USA, its judiciary, and pharmaceutical companies are part of a conspiracy against the claimant are outside of the realm of what could reasonably be expected, in light of the lack of available evidence before me. While the claimant could have been targeted by another individual in an act of random violence, there is insufficient evidence before me to connect the attack to any of the agents of harm in this case.

[16] The objective evidence contained in the NDP for the USA confirms that the United States is a federal republic whose people benefit from a vibrant political system, a strong rule-of-law tradition, robust freedoms of expression and religious belief, and a wide array of other civil liberties. The United States benefits from strong structural safeguards against official corruption, including a traditionally independent law enforcement system, a free and vigorous press, and an active civil society sector.[3]

[17] The claimant has submitted documentary evidence in support of his claim. The disclosure, which was 296 pages in its entirety, contain illegible handwritten notes and photographs of faded carbon-copy documents. However, from the disclosure provided by the claimant, some of the documents that are legible are as follows.

1. A petition for dissolution of marriage, petitioned by the claimant's ex-wife, filed at the Maricopa County Superior Court.

2. Multiple grievance forms and disciplinary hearing forms from the Oregon Department of Corrections, where the claimant had spent time in custody.

[18] In my view, the documents submitted only corroborate the claimant's own personal belief, which I have found to be not reliable or credible. I find that these documents are neither relevant nor probative, and I assign these documents no weight for the following reasons.

[19] The documents provided by the claimant are not relevant to the case at hand. The documents make no mention of the claimant's alleged whistleblowing, environmental activism, or involvement in "preparing heaven on Earth for the return of Christ". Simply put, while I have no reasons to doubt the genuineness or the authenticity of these documents, these documents are given no weight as they are, at face value, not relevant to the central elements of the claimant's allegations.

[20] After considering all of the evidence before me, I find that there is insufficient credible or trustworthy evidence to establish that the claimant was targeted by the government of the USA, its judiciary, or pharmaceutical companies in the USA. While I accept that the allegations advanced by the claimant may be true to him, I find that his beliefs are rooted in implausibilities which are not supported by any credible or reliable evidence.

[21] Where the claimant has not established his central allegations on a balance of probabilities, I find that the claimant has not established that he faces a serious possibility of persecution or a personal risk of s.97(1) harms as enumerated in the Act, should the claimant return to the United States of America.

[22] As such, this claim is rejected.

CONCLUSION

[23] For the foregoing reasons, I find that the claimant is neither a Convention refugee nor a person in need of protection. I reject his claim.

SOLEMN DECLARATION

I, Kyle KLIMCHUK (badge # 20870), of the Canada Border Services Agency, solemnly declare that I am an Inland Enforcement Officer (IEO) within the Detentions Unit of Canada Border Services Agency's Pacific Region Inland Enforcement Section, based at the B.C. Immigration Holding Centre (BCIHC), located in Surrey, BC.

Spencer BARRETT is currently detained at the BCIHC, having been admitted to the facility on October 11, 2024.

On November 20 2024 a written request was received from BARRETT. The request read:
"I have documents I need to fax to Immigration Division and my Duty Counsel before tomorrow's detention review hearing".

At approximately 19:20 hours I spoke with BARRETT and requested his documents so I could fax them. BARRETT stated he was not willing to provide me the documents, rather he would only transmit them himself. I informed BARRETT that we do not have a fax machine for detainee use, but I would ensure they were transmitted and provide him with the transmission receipt. BARRETT refused and stated he would rather present the documents himself during his hearing, as he was told he was able during his previous hearing.

I attempted to continue a dialog regarding the documents however the conversation did not lead to BARRETT providing the paperwork.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.

Declared before me in the city of Surrey, in the province of British Columbia this 20th day of November, 2024.

SOLEMN DECLARATION

I, A.CHITCHOT, solemnly declare that I am an Inland Enforcement Officer employed at the British Columbia Immigration Holding Centre (BCIHC) for the Pacific Region Inland Enforcement Section (PRIES) of the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) located in Surrey, British Columbia (BC).

Spencer Joseph BARRETT, hereinafter referred to as "CLIENT" is currently detained at the BCIHC.

On October 30, 2024, while on rounds, I was approached by a guard who was monitoring the client's unit who informed me of an incident involving the client. The guard stated he had to speak to the client regarding erratic, disruptive behavior, yelling loudly and wakening the other clients (which I verified with as well that in fact, he is waking people up with his behavior). I called out the client's name and asked if we could speak to him in his room. Immediately the client became defensive, loud, and accusatory of not going into his room as "you guys make shit up and lie" so I asked if he would rather have his business talked about in front of others and I am trying to give him privacy. The client continued to talk over me stating that CBSA has not responded to any of his requests he has submitted and that he does not want to speak to us. As I was walking over to his table, he demanded I 'don't come any closer, stay right there'. I informed him that he does not dictate officer's movements in the unit and that I will come talk to him. During our non-productive interaction due to the clients disrespectful and derogatory behavior towards CBSA and me in particular (bear in mind I have never spoken to this client in any previous interaction), the following statements were made by the client. The client stated that:

- You are a rapist. – context, did not respect space, refer to surveillance of groups in ICE
- You are disgusting. – said same thing to Klimchuk who chased me to my room – gain respectful distance
- Go do your fucking job CHITCHOT, and then repeated Shitshot in a weak attempt to phase my presence.
- Go get my 300 page fucking civil rights documents.

During this interaction, I logged most of what the client was verbally hurling at me and informed him that I am here to listen to what he has to say with respect to his concerns. The client continued to tell me to get away from him and that I am a rapist for not respecting his personal space. I then informed him that I will warn him that he is not to be disruptive nor yell and to be respectful of others who are sleeping. I warned him that should he not adhere to the basic rules, he will then be placed elsewhere or in wet cells as his disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. The client's rude and defiant behavior towards law enforcement, guards, and other detainees is escalated when the client feels things are not going how he wants, yet when is offered the opportunity to air his grievances, he chooses to dismiss those opportunities and air his grievances in front of the entire unit by yelling and being derogatory.

I asked if he had anything further to add, to which he remained silent and ignored me.

I then was approached by another detainee who informed me that the client has been disruptive to the unit and wakes everyone up by yelling loudly and spontaneously. The detainee was also stating that this client had made a very offensive comment to him while sitting on the couch together. I asked if he would share what he said and the detainee reluctantly told me that this client had told him to 'put his finger in his ass' (his own).

I then warned the client again to mind his words when interacting with other clients. He then stated that I should go get a medical degree and that 'your nurses are plugging people up' and that I don't have a clue of what I am talking about and to 'go get educated'. I would have responded that I have two degrees, but I felt that was unnecessary and unproductive to the conversation.

As I was writing this declaration, guard supervisor had informed us that the client threw a pen at a guard when the guard asked him not to take the pen in his room.

This ends my involvement with the incident.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.

SOLEMN DECLARATION

I, VILLALON, solemnly declare that I am an Inland Enforcement Officer (IEO) employed at the British Columbia Immigration Holding Centre (BCIHC) for the Pacific Region Inland Enforcement Section (PRIES) of the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) located in Surrey, British Columbia (BC).

BARRETT, Spencer Joseph, hereinafter referred to as "CLIENT" is currently detained at the BCIHC.

The CLIENT's recent movements and dates are as follows;

- 2024-12-12 – Seen by IHC medical staff for mental health concerns and found certifiable. Same day transport to Surrey Memorial Hospital (SMH) for care
- 2024-12-13 – CLIENT was spoken with by SMH doctor, and was deemed "double certified"
- 2024-12-14 – CLIENT was discharged by SMH, and returned to BCIHC
  - Upon arrival at BCIHC, CLIENT was placed in Medical for observation
- 2024-12-15 – CLIENT seen by IHC doctor, and cleared to return to Unit

In the past week, CLIENT has been observed and recorded in logs directing vulgar and disrespectful comments towards and about CBSA officers, GARDA staff, as well as medical staff. CLIENT has displayed behaviours and made comments to the effect of;

- Referring to officers as "faggots… who are only capable of looking tough"
- Expressing that "I don't want the pervy doctor to touch me"
- CLIENT has been observed in plain view with his hand down his pants, making references to masturbating, and going for a "world record"
- Disregarding facility rules, and causing disturbances during quiet hours
- During evening rounds, CLIENT asks guards if they "have boners", and the CLIENT says he will "kiss them on the mouth"

In recent instances, it has been recorded that the CLIENT has made direct threats to GARDA staff, making statements to the effect of, "I will kill him with a pen," while also threating the guard's family. When the CLIENT was asked why he was making violent threats, the CLIENT explained his reasoning was because he was not allowed to bring paperwork to the gym while exercising.
Furthermore, the CLIENT has made additional statements that "I want every one of you to be killed by Christmas", "I know everyone's name, date of birth, and social insurance number... I will be coming for you all".
During one confrontation, the CLIENT stated he wants the guard to suffer, and that the CLIENT would

1. From your globalist economy city tax $ support
2. Lack of emerg breakup systems..

enjoy that. In the same interaction, the CLIENT began asking how many children the guard has, and that the CLIENT wants the kids to die. — children are already 12 & you guys dont care

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.

I, VILLALON, solemnly declare that I am an Inland Enforcement Officer (IEO) employed at the British Columbia Immigration Holding Centre (BCIHC) for the Pacific Region Inland Enforcement Section (PRIES) of the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) located in Surrey, British Columbia (BC).

BARRETT, Spencer Joseph, hereinafter referred to as "CLIENT" is currently detained at the BCIHC.

The CLIENT returned to BCIHC from Surrey Memorial Hospital on 2024-12-14. The reports and records of the CLIENTs behaviour since returning is summarized as follows;

- 2024-12-15; CLIENT reported to have had an outburst directed at another client, for the reason of moving CLIENT's puzzle, in order to make room at the table to eat the evening meal. CLIENT reported to make comments to the effect of, "You disrespected me… You're an asshole. I don't like you; never talk to me… Never touch my stuff."

- 2024-12-16; CLIENT made a request to use the gym for a second time the same day, and was advised by guards that protocol was to only approve a second daily trip to the gym if it is operationally feasible. CLIENT reacted to this by making comments to the effect of; "you guys (guards) are making me unhappy on purpose… I know everyone's name, date of birth, and social insurance number – once I'm out of here I will be coming for you all, just wait and watch."
  The CLIENT then went to the washroom, and after some time stated, "Call everyone to see what I have here for you."
  When addressed about the statement of coming after the guards, the CLIENT stated that he doesn't remember saying that to anyone, but if he did, that he is sorry.

- 2024-12-18; CLIENT was reported to have come out of his room shortly before quiet hours, and stated to the guard, "Don't you want everyone to die?... I wish everyone dies."
  The CLIENT then made statements regarding Sikhs to the effect of, "Why would you call yourself Sikh? You are going to make yourself sick. You could call yourself 'healthies'; this is stupid." The CLIENT continued by stating, "you should be ashamed for calling yourself that."
  Later that evening, the CLIENT requested for a guard to "call my mother and ask her to die," before heading to the washroom. While in the washroom, the CLIENT was being disruptive and speaking loudly. When asked to lower his voice by guards, the CLIENT responded by making a statement how he wishes the guard to suffer, and that the CLIENT would enjoy that.
  During quiet hours that night, the CLIENT approached the guards, and started asking how many kids guards had. Guards replied to the CLIENT that they will not disclose any personal information. The CLIENT then responded by stating he wants the guards kids to die.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.

Spencer Joseph BARRETT, hereinafter referred to as "BARRETT" , "S", and "CLIENT", is currently detained at the BCIHC. BARRETT has been at the BCIHC since October 11, 2024.

BARRETT had brought forward various complaints about his time in detention to Member WONG, including accessing the documents which he wishes to disclose to the Division.

On December 31, 2024 at approximately 11:15 hrs, BARRETT was spoken to in his unit room (Delta Unit) by myself, and Officers KLIMCHUK, BALISTAIRE, and LOPEZ.

BARRETT's request for accessing his documents was subsequently approved, and he was promptly told so about this request approval. More specifically, BARRETT will be given chrome book access during the next two days for approximately thirty minutes each day. BARRETT was told access to further chrome book usage will be reassessed at that time. BARRETT also has been approved to access any immigration related documents on his personal phone. BARRETT acknowledged this approval and was advised he will be given access when it is feasible for the guards to do so.

Narrative / narratif

United States citizen Spencer Joseph BARRETT ("BARRETT") came to CBSA's attention on today's date by Corporal KITSOL of the Surrey RCMP. BARRETT was found sleeping in the park at the Whalley Athletic Park in Surrey. BARRETT refused to identify himself to the RCMP, as such the RCMP arrested him for obstruction. Upon arrest, BARRETT actively resisted. BARRETT eventually identified himself and the Corporal contacted CBSA.

BARRETT's IMMIGRATION HISTORY:

On August 31, 2024 BARRETT sought entry at the Vancouver Amtrak. BARRETT had indicated "TBD" on the declaration card (E311) for his intended length of stay in Canada. He stated that he would stay "in the woods or national parks". BARRETT also stated that he was unemployed and that he is a "conscientious objector to the economy". BARRETT had very limited funds and stated that he would meet his basic needs in Canada by going to food banks or other resources available to the homeless. BARRETT stated that he had been living in the forests in Washington.

NOTE from the Border Services Officer (BSO) regarding criminality:

"stated that he had received a DUI conviction and an assault charge stemming from the same incident. Client stated that he had done 18 months in prison and at one point had been sent to a mental hospital as the courts believed he may be schizophrenic. Indices check was completed at approximately 23:42 hours. NCIC check was positive and showed a conviction of assault in the 2nd degree in 2017, along with driving while under the influence charge in 2018, trespassing, obstruction of police, damage of property and making false reports all in 2022. The client is still on parole resulting from his charges with an active warrant out of Oregon due to parole violations."

BARRETT was refused entry and was given an allowed to leave pursuant to A36(2)(b) and was transported to the Pacific Highway port of entry to facilitate his return to the US.

Per the Passage Query Tool (PQT), there have been no recorded entries into Canada since August 31, 2024. As such, there are reasonable to grounds to believe that BARRETT entered Canada between the ports of entries without reporting for an examination.

I spoke with BARRETT over the phone while he was in the back of the police cruiser. I attempted to ask BARRETT how, when, [redacted] where he entered Canada and he said he would have to "look through my records". He did say that the US authorities had "chased" him. I then attempted to ask BARRETT simple medical questions in order to complete the detention documents and he again stated that he would have to "look through my records". It should be mentioned that BARRETT was not in possession of any physical records therefore it is unclear what or where these "records" are/were. Any time I attempted to ask questions, BARRETT would go on rants that were not pertinent to the topics at hand.

The Detainee Medical Needs (DMN) and National Risk Assessment for Detention (NRAD) forms were NOT filled out to their entirety. I contacted a Detainee Liaison Officer (DLO) at the BCIHC and advised as such prior to BARRETT being transported by the Surrey RCMP.

It is suspected that BARRETT suffers from a mental health condition or disorder.

I will attempt to re-interview BARRETT later on this afternoon while he is at the IHC.

A section 44 report has been written pursuant to section A41(a) x A18(1) of IRPA.

BARRETT's CRIMINAL HISTORY:

Per NCIC, BARRETT had been charged with numerous criminal offences in the US including but not limited to:
-Assault
-Robbery
-Criminal Mischief
-Unlawful Use of Weapon
-DUI
-Reckless Driving
-Reckless Endangering
-Criminal Driving
-Trespassing
-Obstruct Police
-Disorderly Conduct

Most of these charges were dismissed

WARRANT:

- August 14, 2024: US statewide (OR, WA, ID, MT, CA) extradition warrant for "parole violation". NCIC indicates that "this subject has multiple warrants from this agency". I only notice one warrant.

POSSIBLE CONVICTIONS:

- September 8, 2017: Felony conviction for Attempt to Commit Crime (161.405 OR) from the Benton County Circuit Court in Oregon where he may have received a 40 day custodial sentence and three years probation. It would appear that the Attempt to Commit Crime was possibly a reduced charge originating from an Assault 2nd Degree (163.175 OR) charge.

- August 8, 2022: Misdemeanour conviction for False Info-Police (162.385 OR) from the Jackson County Circuit Court in Oregon where he may have received a 10 day custodial sentence and 18 months probation.

Court records requests have been submitted with the respective courts in Oregon it will likely take at least 5 business days to receive.

UPDATE: The BCIHC facilitated a phone call with BARRETT. This purpose of the phone call was to conduct a follow-up interview to determine when and where BARRETT crossed into Canada, to discuss his criminal record in the US, and to explore alternatives to detention. BARRETT stated to me over the phone "I don't want to talk to you, you're an anti-immigration asshole." and hung up the phone.

GCMS Notes from August 31, 2024 with Spencer Joseph Barrett

On 31st August 2024, I was working as a fully uniformed officer for the Canada Border Services Agency at the Vancouver Pacific Central Station processing travelers off of the Amtrak 518 from Portland, Oregon via Seattle. At approximately 23:25 hours I began a secondary examination of BARRETT, Spencer Joseph (DOB: 1994-05-18) a citizen of the United States who had been referred for a selective secondary examination.

The client presented their passport and declaration card (E311) to me and was traveling with a single backpack. Upon reading the declaration card, I noticed it stated "TBD" for the length of stay and also had marked "yes" to the cannabis question. I asked the client how long they planned to stay in Canada and he answered "an undetermined amount of time to explore". I then asked where he would be staying and the client stated "in the woods or national parks". I asked the client what he did for work to which he replied "I am unemployed" and also stated that he is a conscientious objector to the economy. When asked what his previous job was, he stated he was involved in multimedia production and had previously created some documentaries that he released on YouTube. Client further mentioned that he had worked many jobs for limited amounts of time. The client was travelling with no cash and had limited access to funds ; he stated if he really needed money he could contact his mother for help. When asked how he would meet his basic needs while in Canada, he stated he would go to food banks or other resources available to the homeless. Client was not in possession of return ticket nor did he have the means to be able to purchase one.

I had BARRETT bring has bag over place it on the counter and empty his pockets. I asked him the mandatory baggage questions, to which he replied in the affirmative, and began examining the back pack. I noticed that the client had very limited clothing, and the bare minimum of every day life essentials. Client had mentioned earlier that he intended to camp but was not in possession of the gear required to do so. During the search of the bag I uncovered the declared cannabis, and BARRETT was counselled on the importation of cannabis into Canada. BARRETT elected to forfeit the cannabis to the Kings bond(B497269)(2334-24-0004). While continuing the bag search I asked the client where he lived in the United States, he answered he was from Oregon, but was last in Washington living in the forests as he is self sufficient and an outdoorsman. The client stated that he recently finished hiking the pacific crest trail ("PCT") and since has been living with homeless people of Washington.

I asked the client if he had ever been arrested, charged or convicted of any crimes in the United States or any other country? He stated "yes". When asked to elaborate he stated that he had received a DUI conviction and an assault charge stemming from the same incident. Client stated that he had done 18 months in prison and at one point had been sent to a mental hospital as the courts believed he may be schizophrenic. Indices check was completed at approximately 23:42 hours. NCIC check was positive and showed a conviction of assault in the 2nd degree in 2017, along with driving while under the influence charge in 2018, trespassing, obstruction of police, damage of property and making false reports all in 2022. The client is still on parole resulting from his charges with an active warrant out of Oregon due to parole violations. The client was forthcoming about the prior charges but was unable to recall all criminal offences. The client was deemed inadmissible due to his assault in the 2nd degree assault charge under section 163.175 of the Oregon Penal Code, which equates to S.266 of the Canadian criminal code an indictable offence that ,if committed in Canada, would result in a prison term not exceeding five years. Client was deemed inadmissible pursuant to A36(2)(b). Additional charges were not equated at this time.

Non pursuant to the criminality, the traveler would still be deemed inadmissible due to being a non genuine traveler. Having no means to support himself, no return ticket booked and no funds to purchase one. The client also did not have any reservations for accommodations, minimum ties to the United States as he stated he was homeless and without employment.

NO I DID NOT

BARRETT was presented with his options, and he elected to withdraw his application to enter Canada. At approximately 00:35 BARRETT was issued an allowed to leave which he refused to sign even after additional explanation and counselling. Client was provided, and accepted, a copy. Client expressed a desire to travel to Alaska on the ferry as soon as possible occasion, a facilitative transport to the United States was provided. Client was transferred by BSO HOWARD and PARENT to the PAC-HWY border crossing and departed to the United States at approximately 01:53 without incident.

End of Report.

I, Prabhneet Kaloa, of the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA), solemnly declare that I am an Acting Enforcement Case Officer (ECO) within the Detentions Unit of the of the Pacific Region Immigration Enforcement Operations Division, based at the British Columbia Immigration Holding Centre (BCIHC), located in Surrey, BC.

Mr. Spencer Joseph BARRETT, herein referred to as the client or BARRETT, is currently detained at the BCIHC. BARRETT arrived at the BCIHC on October 11, 2024 and is detained for as Unlikely to Appear. I conducted an interview to provide the client with information on Alternatives to Detention (ATD) and the various programs available to him at the BCIHC. The client stated that he would like to a witness for this interview, therefore Detentions Manager Adam PARSONS sat in on this interview.

I introduced myself to the client and advised him that I would be providing him with information on Alternatives to Detention. As per the client's request Manager PARSONS confirmed if he was comfortable with him sitting in on this interview, to which the client stated that it was fine. I informed the client that he can propose a release plan to the Member at his detention review tomorrow. This release plan should include a residence that the client will stay at if he were to be released. This could include a shelter or a place that he was residing at prior to detention. The client stated that he was previously staying at the Surrey Welcome Hub Shelter[1] on King George Blvd in Surrey. BARRETT went on to state that he also stayed with a friend 'JAGGER'[2] in a home that was previously raided by the police. I asked the client if he had any family or friends in Canada. BARRETT confirmed that he did not and only had a few friends that he would sometimes stay with. I explained the requirements of a bondsperson[3] to the client. I also advised the client that I would call the Surrey Welcome Hub Shelter tomorrow and will follow up with him if I receive confirmation of an available bed for him. BARRETT confirmed that he does not have any medical conditions. I asked the client if he has any mental health issues. The client stated that he has PTSD and was previously diagnosed with Schizophrenia and Bipolar Disorder which he does not agree with. BARRETT confirmed he does not have any suicidal thoughts. The client drinks alcohol rarely and only smoked marijuana or tobacco whenever he can access it. BARRETT does not have any funds. I let the client know of the various programs offered at the IHC and of the medical services available to him.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath.

Declared before me in the city of Surrey in the province of British Columbia this 22nd day of October 2024.

Allegations - Details of Complaint

Clarify the allegations. Be brief, but identify and include all allegations. Classification of complaints and table of allegations are available in appendices A and B. (this field expands)

Mr. Barrett Bharata stated that, on October 11, 2024 at approximately 8:00 a.m., he was in the Whalley baseball park when he was confronted by two police officers (later determined to be Constable Wong and Corporal Kitsul). Mr. Barrett Bharata reported that police then used excessive force to handcuff Mr. Barrett Bharata when he would not provide his name, even though he had committed no crime. He stated he was struck in the temple and leg after refusing to allow police to handcuff him, and these strikes left him with injuries. Police did not inform him that he had committed a crime or the nature of the crime he was allegedly suspected of and police had no surveillance or recording equipment operating. Constable Wong tried to explain that Mr. Barrett Bharata had been "obstructing justice" and resisting arrest, which warranted the use of force; however, Mr. Barrett Bharata replied that he had never been informed that he was trespassing, so he was unaware that he was not permitted in the park. Mr. Barrett Bharata is claiming asylum in Canada.

Nature of Complaint:
THE COMPLAINANT ALLEGED THAT ON OCTOBER 11TH, 2024:

ALLEGATION 1: IMPROPER USE OF FORCE - PHYSICAL CONTROL - CONSTABLE WONG AND CORPORAL KITSUL USED IMPROPER FORCE AND STRIKES TO PLACE MR. BARRETT BHARATA INTO HANDCUFFS.

ALLEGATION 2: IMPROPER ARREST - CONSTABLE WONG AND CORPORAL KITSUL DID NOT HAVE THE AUTHORITY TO DEMAND MR. BARRETT BHARATA'S NAME OR TO ARREST HIM, AS HE HAD NOT COMMITTED AN OFFENCE.

What would you like to achieve through this complaint process? (this field expands)

Appendix B - Classification of Complaints (Includes Part VII and Non-Part VII Complaints)

A. Improper Attitude
Public complaints (PCs) about members' deportment are often, but not exclusively, recognized by the terms abusive, rude, vulgar, profane, discourteous, impolite, disrespectful, sarcastic, arrogant, indifferent, angry, obnoxious, belligerent, aggressive, intimidating, threatening, combative, provoking, ridiculing, and/or mocking. They may also contain references to lack of impartiality or fairness, lack of empathy, a lack of concern for someone's welfare, or a wanton lack of discretion. Deportment PCs often involve violation of the CAPRA principles.

B. Improper Use of Force (Conducted Energy Weapon [CEW], Oleoresin Capsicum [OC] Spray, Defensive Baton, Restraints, Physical Control, Dog Bite or Other)
This should include any PC of inappropriate or excessive force. PCs may include allegations of use of force that was unnecessary, inconsistent with the circumstances, and applied too frequently, harshly, or for too long a duration. Complainants may allege inappropriate use of physical control techniques (soft-hand and/or hard-hand), police holds, dog bites, tear gas or OC spray, defensive batons, CEW, or any other weapon or instrument, whether prescribed or not. Use of Force PCs often involve violations of the Incident Management/Intervention Model principles.

C. Improper Use of Firearms
This classification is reserved for Improper Use of Force allegations specific to the use, display, or discharge of a firearm.

D. Irregularity in Procedure
This section most often refers to an alleged violation of the intent and spirit of an "administratively enforced" statute, such as the Privacy Act, the Access to Information Act, the RCMP Act and any Force policy relating to those acts. Some of the more common PCs involve privacy or access issues, including allegations that a member obtained information, directly or indirectly, from a police data bank, without justification, and/or for reasons not consistent with a duty being performed, and/or used that information, or shared it with, or disclosed it to another person or party, without justification, or in a manner not prescribed by law or Force policy. Also included in this category are CRCC findings (interim reports) of improper termination of public complaints.

E. Driving Irregularity
This refers to any allegation that a member used any form of police transport improperly or unsafely, whether in violation of any law, or without due consideration of others. In particular, it refers to PCs about pursuits and emergency vehicle operations.

F1. Neglect of Duty
This broad category encompasses allegations that a member failed or refused to perform a duty, or provide a service that members are expected to provide, or did perform the duty or provide the service, but in a manner which does not compare favourably with Force standards. This category includes, but is not restricted to allegations of refusal to identify oneself, refusal or failure to provide timely and adequate service, mismanagement of PCs, inadequate or incompetent investigations, improper care and handling of prisoners, failure to release detained persons into safe haven at time of release, and failure to provide adequate, prompt, and competent medical care. Neglect of Duty may be attributed to both members (since Part VII of the RCMP Act applies to the conduct of members or persons appointed under the act) and one or more of the members' line supervisors or superiors (as in failures to supervise or provide guidance or direction, improper task assignment and/or failure to avoid conflict of interest). Neglect of Duty allegations which fit into a Charter Violation category (sections J, K, L, or M) should be reported there, instead of in this category. This broad category also includes relatively common allegations of Deficient Reporting that a member failed or refused to record/report the facts of a PC, a service provided, or investigation conducted. It also includes allegations that a member fabricated, recorded, or reported facts that were incorrect or untrue, or that a member concealed, and/or failed to record, or report correct or true facts. This refers to notebooks, occurrence reports, crime reports, reporting forms, court documents, or records of any type, including written, audio, video, audio-video, electronic, etc.

F2. Neglect of Duty - Public Complaint Process
This should include any public complaint of neglect of duty as described in section F1 – Neglect of Duty, however relating specifically to the public complaint process, including for example allegations of mismanagement of PCs, failing to send the monthly status updates, or failing to record/report a public complaint.

G. Statutory Offences
This classification is reserved for PCs alleging violation of the Criminal Code, Federal Statute, Provincial Statute, or Municipal By-Law, even though such PCs may be referred to the Crown or the appropriate RCMP Officer for decisions on possible prosecution or RCMP Code of Conduct proceedings.

H. Mishandling of Property
This classification is reserved for PCs alleging the loss of property (including money), unreasonable detention of property, damage to property in police custody, improper disposal of property, or failure to account for money or property.

I. Irregularity - Evidence
This classification is intended for allegations that a member testified, in a judicial proceeding, to erroneous facts, such as those alluded to in section F1 - Neglect of Duty (Deficient Reporting). It is reserved for PCs alleging that a member failed or refused to report the facts of a PC, a service provided, or investigation conducted in a judicial proceeding. It includes allegations that a member testified to facts that were incorrect or untrue, or that a member concealed, and/or failed to testify to correct or true facts.

J. Oppressive Conduct
This classification is restricted to those cases which surpass improper attitude, irregular procedure, and neglect of duty. It is reserved for bona fide allegations of severe misuse of police authority or powers, aggravated harassment, unfounded, unfair, or embellished charging, and threats or intimidation via any of the foregoing. Refer to Improper Attitude before using this classification. An allegation of an aggravated violation of Section 7 of the Charter would likely apply here.

K. Improper Arrest
This classification is generally reserved for allegations of a violation of the intent and spirit of the Charter, including Section 2 (expression, etc.), and Sections 7 and 9 (unjustified or unreasonable arrest or detention, etc.). PCs often allege violations of Charter Section 10 (failure to inform person promptly of reason for arrest and of rights to counsel, and/or to promptly provide person with opportunity to exercise rights, etc.) which are part and parcel of a proper arrest.

L. Improper Persons/Vehicles Search
This classification is specifically reserved for personal and vehicular searches and is generally reserved for allegations of a violation of the intent and spirit of the Charter, including Section 8 (unreasonable or unjustified search or seizure, including warrant-less search, etc.).

M. Improper Search of Premises
This classification is specifically reserved for premises searches and generally reserved for allegations of a violation of the intent and spirit of the Charter, including Section 8 (unreasonable or unjustified search or seizure, including warrant-less entry into a residence or place, etc.). This classification may apply to a member who enters a premises or remains unlawfully in a premises.

N. Policy
This classification is reserved for PCs about Force policies or their application. Since Part VII of the RCMP Act applies to the conduct of a member or a person appointed under the Act, this is a rarely used classification.

O. Equipment
This classification is reserved for PCs about Force equipment or its use. Since Part VII of the RCMP Act applies to the conduct of a member or a person appointed under the Act, this is a rarely used classification.

P. Service
This classification is reserved for PCs about a lack of response or an inability to provide adequate, timely service. This refers to a general police service, as opposed to a specific service provided by a specific member as referred to in section F1 - Neglect of Duty. Since Part VII of the RCMP Act applies to the conduct of a member or a person appointed under the Act, this is a rarely used classification.

Q/R. Bias
This classification is reserved for PCs alleging that actions, inactions or decisions made by a member, resulted in the inequitable treatment of a person or group. Complainants may allege a discriminatory practice related to any, or a combination of, the following grounds: race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, family status, genetic characteristics, disability or a conviction for which a pardon has been granted or record suspended. Other can be utilized when there is a combination of grounds.

➢ You have the right to ask for a second medical opinion

If you don't agree with your psychiatric treatment, you can ask for a second opinion from another doctor. To do this, ask a nurse to help you fill out Form 11.

You can choose any doctor licensed to practise in BC to examine you, but you may have to pay for their travel costs.

Be aware that the second opinion is just an opinion, and your treatment team doesn't have to follow the other doctor's recommendations.

➢ You have the right to speak with a lawyer

A lawyer can help you challenge your certification by asking a judge to review your case. You may have to pay the lawyer's fee and court costs.

A lawyer can also give you legal advice about your rights as a certified patient. If you can't afford a lawyer, Access Pro Bono offers 30 minutes of free legal advice over the phone. Call to make an appointment:

604-482-3195 ext. 1500 in the Lower Mainland
1-877-762-6664 ext. 1500 elsewhere in BC
10 AM–4 PM, Monday to Friday

What happens when I leave the hospital?

You may either:

- be discharged and be free to go, or
- be placed on extended leave.

Being on extended leave means you can live out in the community, but you will still be certified and will have to follow conditions, like visiting a mental health team and taking psychiatric medications.

review panel

You have the right to know if you're being discharged or placed on extended leave. You have all of the same rights on extended leave as you do in the hospital, including the right to ask for a review panel hearing.

What if I'm unhappy about my care?

If you have complaints about the way you've been treated, you can contact the Office of the Ombudsperson:

1-800-567-3247

PO Box 9039
STN PROV GOVT
Victoria, BC
V8W 9A5

bcombudsperson.ca

The Office of the Ombudsperson is an independent body that investigates public institutions, like the hospital.

Where can I get more information about my rights?

Read a summary of your rights on Form 13. A nurse will ask you to sign that form to show that someone has told you about your rights.

If you'd like a family member or friend to help you with your rights, you can ask a nurse to give them rights information.

If you have questions about your rights, talk to a nurse or a mental health team member to learn more.

This pamphlet was created by the Mental Health Act Rights Advice research team (bcmentalhealthrights.ca). Funding for this research was provided by Michael Smith Foundation for Health Research.

YOUR RIGHTS

under BC's

MENTAL HEALTH ACT

What you can do if you're certified as an involuntary patient

Thank you Tahsha (received @ 9pm)

What does it mean to be certified under BC's Mental Health Act?

The Mental Health Act is the law that sets out the rules for when a person can be kept in the hospital against their will.

That law says that you can be certified as an involuntary patient only if a doctor has examined you and believes you meet all four of these criteria:

1. your ability to react to your environment and associate with others is seriously impaired because of a mental disorder,
2. you need psychiatric treatment,
3. you need care, supervision, and control:
   - to protect you or others, or
   - to prevent you from deteriorating substantially, either mentally or physically, and
4. you can't be admitted as a voluntary patient.

If you've been certified, you may feel scared, confused, or angry, especially if you aren't sure what your rights are.

When you're certified:

- you can't leave the hospital without your doctor's permission, and
- you can't refuse psychiatric treatment, including medication.

But you can still talk to your doctor about your treatment, and you don't lose all your rights.

How long do I have to stay in the hospital?

That depends on how many certificates have been completed. One certificate lets your doctor keep you in hospital for up to 48 hours. If a second certificate is completed, you may have to stay for up to 1 month.

If, at any point, the doctor believes you no longer meet the criteria, you will be decertified.

	1st certificate	2nd certificate	1st renewal	2nd renewal	3rd & further renewals
CERTIFICATION PERIODS	48 hrs	1 month	1 month	3 months	6 months (can repeat)

If the doctor believes you still meet the criteria after a month, they can renew your certification, first for 1 month, then for 3 months, then for periods of 6 months.

During each of these certification periods, you have the right to:

- be told what your rights are,
- be examined by a doctor to see if you still meet the criteria for certification,
- ask for a review panel hearing, and
- ask for a second medical opinion.

What rights do I have if I'm certified?

➢ You have the right to know where you are

Ask a nurse if you need to know the name and address of the hospital.

➢ You have the right to know why you've been certified

The doctor must write the reasons for your hospitalization on your medical certificate (Form 4) or, if your certification has been renewed, on your renewal certificate (Form 6). You have the right to know what is on your certificate.

➢ You have the right to ask for a review panel hearing

If you don't agree with the doctor's decision to certify you, you can challenge your hospitalization. One way is to ask for a hearing with a review panel. There is no cost for a hearing.

A review panel is independent of the hospital and includes:

- a lawyer,
- a doctor who isn't on your treatment team, and
- a member of the community.

They will hear your case and decide if you meet the criteria for hospitalization. If they decide that you don't, you'll be decertified. If they decide that you do, you'll have to stay in the hospital.

To apply for a review panel hearing, ask a nurse to help you fill out Form 7. If you are in a 1-month certification period, your hearing will be scheduled within 14 days from when you apply.

You have the right to have an advocate or lawyer represent you and help you prepare and present your case to the review panel.

You can call witnesses to testify on your behalf.

You can ask the review panel if you can bring someone to support you, but it's up to the chair of the panel to decide if this will be allowed.

Once you have a hearing scheduled, if you need help finding an advocate or lawyer to represent you, call the Mental Health Law Program:

What is olanzapine and what does it treat?

Olanzapine is a medication that works in the brain to treat schizophrenia. It is also known as a second-generation antipsychotic (SGA) or atypical antipsychotic. Olanzapine rebalances dopamine and serotonin to improve thinking, mood, and behavior.

Symptoms of schizophrenia include:

- Hallucinations - imagined voices or images that seem real
- Delusions - beliefs that are not true (e.g., other people are reading your thoughts)
- Disorganized thinking or trouble organizing your thoughts and making sense
- Little desire to be around other people
- Trouble speaking clearly
- Lack of motivation

Olanzapine may help some or all of these symptoms.

Olanzapine may be used alone or with other medications to treat mental health conditions.

It is also FDA approved for the following indications:

- Acute treatment of manic or mixed episodes of bipolar disorder
- Maintenance (long-term) treatment of bipolar disorder
- Acute treatment of agitation in schizophrenia and bipolar disorder
- Episodes of depression that happen with bipolar I disorder, when used with fluoxetine
- Episodes of depression that do not get better after trying 2 other medications, also called treatment resistant depression, when used with fluoxetine

This medication sheet will focus primarily on schizophrenia. You can find more information about bipolar disorder and depression here.

This medication may be prescribed for other uses; ask your health care provider for more information.

Olanzapine orally disintegrating tablets will dissolve in your mouth within seconds and can be swallowed with or without liquid.

Use a calendar, pillbox, alarm clock, or cell phone alert to help you remember to take your medication. You may also ask a family member a friend to remind you or check in with you to be sure you are taking your medication.

The long-acting injection form of olanzapine is administered every 2 to 4 weeks. It should be administered by your health care professional through an injection into your buttocks area. A health care professional will keep you in a setting where you can be observed for at least 3 hours after each injection.

What happens if I miss a dose of olanzapine?

It is important to take your medication everyday as directed by your health care provider. Do not miss or skip a dose.

If you miss a dose of olanzapine, take it as soon as you remember, unless it is closer to the time of your next dose. Discuss this with your health care provider. Do not double your next dose or take more than what is prescribed. If you miss a dose of olanzapine long-acting injection, see your health care provider to receive your dose as soon as possible.

What should I avoid while taking olanzapine?

Avoid drinking alcohol or using illegal drugs while you are taking olanzapine. They may decrease the benefits (e.g., worsen your symptoms) and increase adverse effects (e.g., sedation) of the medication.

What happens if I overdose with olanzapine?

If an overdose occurs call your doctor or 911. You may need urgent medical care. You may also contact the poison control center at 1-800-222-1222.

A specific treatment to reverse the effects of olanzapine does not exist.

What are the possible side effects of olanzapine?

This is not a complete list. Talk with your health care provider for more information.

Common side effects

Low blood pressure, drowsiness, extrapyramidal symptoms, restlessness, dizziness, headache, fatigue, insomnia, increased prolactin, weight gain, increased appetite, cholesterol abnormalities, increased glucose, dry mouth, indigestion, constipation, liver function test abnormalities, weakness, accidental injury

Rare/serious side effects

Olanzapine may increase the blood levels of a hormone called prolactin. Side effects of increased prolactin levels include females losing their period, production of breast milk and males losing their sex drive or possibly experiencing erectile problems. Long term (months or years) of elevated prolactin can lead to osteoporosis, or increased risk of bone fractures.

Some people may develop muscle related side effects while taking olanzapine. The technical terms for these are "extrapyramidal symptoms" (EPS) and "tardive dyskinesia" (TD). Symptoms of EPS include restlessness, tremor, and stiffness. TD symptoms include slow or jerky movements that one cannot control, often starting in the mouth with tongue rolling or chewing movements.

Antipsychotics can also affect temperature regulation especially if you exercise a lot or are in an area that is very hot. While taking quetiapine, it is especially important to try to drink water to avoid dehydration. Second generation antipsychotics (SGAs) increase the risk of weight gain, high blood sugar, and high cholesterol. This is also known as metabolic syndrome. Your health care provider may ask you for a blood sample to check your cholesterol, blood sugar, and hemoglobin A1c (a measure of blood sugar over time) while you take this medication.

- Information on healthy eating and adding exercise to decrease your chances of developing metabolic syndrome may be found at the following sites:
  - http://www.helpguide.org/articles/healthy-eating/healthy-eating.htm
  - http://www.helpguide.org/home-pages/exercise-fitness.htm

How long does it take for olanzapine to work?

It is very important to tell your doctor how you feel things are going during the first few weeks after you start taking olanzapine. It will probably take several weeks to see big enough changes in your symptoms to decide if olanzapine is the right medication for you.

Antipsychotic treatment is generally needed lifelong for persons with schizophrenia. Your doctor can best discuss the duration of treatment you need based on your symptoms and illness.

- Hallucinations, disorganized thinking, and delusions may improve in the first 1-2 weeks
- Sometimes these symptoms do not completely go away
- Motivation and desire to be around other people can take at least 1-2 weeks to improve
- Symptoms continue to get better the longer you take olanzapine
- It may take 2-3 months before you get the full benefit of olanzapine

Summary of Black Box Warnings

Increased Mortality in Elderly Patients with Dementia Related Psychosis

- When used for dementia related psychosis in elderly patients, both first generation (typical) and second generation (atypical) antipsychotics are associated with an increased risk of mortality. Although there were multiple causes of death in studies, most deaths appeared to be due to cardiovascular causes (e.g., sudden cardiac death) or infection (e.g., pneumonia).

Post-Injection Delirium/Sedation Syndrome

- This rare reaction has been reported with Zyprexa Relprevv, the long-acting injection form of olanzapine. This has not been reported with olanzapine tablets.
- Signs and symptoms of post-injection delirium/sedation syndrome are similar to olanzapine overdose and include sedation (including coma) and delirium (a confusional state).
- Zyprexa Relprevv (olanzapine long-acting injection) must be given at a registered health care facility with access to emergency response services.
- After each injection, patients must be observed at the health care facility by a health care professional for at least 3 hours
- Zyprexa Relprevv (olanzapine long-acting injection) is available only through a restricted distribution program called Zyprexa Relprevv Patient Care Program

BETWEEN:

THE MINISTER OF PUBLIC SAFETY AND EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO INTERVENE

TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to subparagraphs 170(e) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and pursuant to Rule 29 of the Refugee Protection Division Rules, the Minister intends to intervene by appearing through Minister's counsel at the proceedings to present evidence, question witnesses and make representations. The Minister has concerns relating to program integrity.

Further TAKE NOTICE that on this day, a copy of this notice has been sent to Mr. BARRETT via Detention Liaison Officers at the Immigration Holding Centre.

DATED this 27th day of December, in the year 2024, in the city of Vancouver, in the province of British Columbia.

Mason Cooke, Minister's Representative
CBSA – Pacific Region Enforcement Centre
Suite 700 – 300 West Georgia Street
Vancouver, B.C., V6B 6C8
Fax: 604-666-9559

So, at this point, he has been in detention since October 11th, and so that is becoming a long time to remain in detention. It does weigh somewhat in favour of release; however, it is outweighed by the other factors favouring continued detention.

And looking forward, he does have the pending refugee claim. And today, the Minister's Counsel has estimated that a decision is anticipated in six (6) weeks. They have sought an expedited decision as S is in detention. And if there is a negative decision, removals to the United States are frequent and can occur often the same day or in very short order.

Six (6) weeks, again, is a long time to remain in detention, and that does favour release. But once again, that factor is outweighed by those favour and continued detention today.

Minister's Counsel has asked me to attribute some delay to S as he delayed his submissions in regards to the refugee protection process. However, Minister's Counsel did concede during submissions that S has a general mistrust of officers and staff at the Immigration Holding Centre. He has expressed concerns about not being provided copies of his paperwork. He refers to these as requests that he has submitted. He has mentioned that in other facilities that he has been in elsewhere that, they would have carbon copies that would be able to be retained. He says that he doesn't receive any sort of written confirmation of his requests or responses, and he has concerns about his paperwork being lost. And, of course, this is in the context of mental health concerns.

So, although, I do believe there was some delay here, I am going to consider a neutral factor for today in all of the circumstances.

Concerning the best interests of any minor children. Today, there was mention that he had five (5) to seven (7) children, but it was a somewhat disjointed explanation of his relationship with them, and there was nothing about any potential impact on that. There is really nothing in the evidence about any children. Minister's Counsel stated that there was one child referred to in the refugee materials, but again, there is no further information.

So, this really leaves me with insufficient knowledge to know how many children he actually has, the nature of those relationships and how, of course, continued detention may affect them. So, I am going to count that as a neutral factor today.

And finally, I am left to consider what alternative to detention there may be. No specific alternative was presented today. S did mention that he was aware of some shelters or other residence that may possibly be available, but no prior arrangements or planning had been made for that, and the middle of the hearing is not the place to canvass possibilities, generally speaking.

I do agree with prior observations that there should be an element of direct supervision in any release plan and possibly support for mental health issues. And I note that S did disagree with the requirement for direct supervision, but my decision is based on the evidence of history of non-compliance and mental health, etc. So, I don't consider a promise to appear with conditions a suitable alternative for someone in his particular circumstances. So, that favours continued detention as well.

And so, in summary, when I weigh all of these additional factors against each other, they favour continued detention. I am ordering continued detention, and I am scheduling the next detention review hearing for December 19th, 2024, at 02:30 p.m. Pacific Time.

And Mr. Crocker, does that work with the Minister's schedule?
